

Somatic Support Sessions with Sarah

Online via Skype/Zoom

Sarah's Somatic Support Sessions are available to you in your home. The benefits of home-based sessions include:

- an environment that feels safe, comfortable and private
- an opportunity to integrate what you learn in your day-to-day environment
- access to services if you live in a remote location, do not drive or lack the services of a practitioner who weaves together Somatic Experiencing, Biodynamic Craniosacral Therapy, Continuum Movement protocols, Pre and Perinatal Attachment Facilitation and Somatic based Trauma Resolution in their sessions.

Each session is uniquely tailored to whatever issues are present as well as the interests and needs of the client, and often moves fluidly between talking and doing body centered techniques depending on what is appropriate for your situation.

Working together in this way can be just as powerful and engaging as sitting together at Somatic Sanctuary, and in many cases, a more effective way to connect. Given the advantage of meeting from the familiarity and safety your own home, you may find that working together in this way can enable you to open more fully to your truth and find better access to inner resources for healing and transformation.
